Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today's seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP's Position:

Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Dufirstson J. Neree (Rep):

AARP did extensive research but was unable to find any public statement on this issue by July 11, 2014.

Frederica S. Wilson (Dem):

Social Security has provided financial security to the millions of Americans who have worked hard their entire lives to make this country great for more than 75 years. [...] Social Security's challenges are manageable. We need a responsible plan to make sure that all Americans are guaranteed a secure retirement without cuts in benefits. Serious investment in the Social Security system is needed to ensure its future viability. By creating new jobs, spurring our economy, and investing in our nation, we will ensure the continued solvency of Social Security for decades to come. Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today's seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP's Position:

Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person's health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Frederica S. Wilson (Dem):

I oppose [...] efforts to change Medicare from an entitlement to a voucher program for individuals aged 54 and under. It is simply unfair to balance the budget and make cuts to this vital entitlement program without even considering all options to balance the budget [...] (Source: Wilson's Official Website, <http://ow.ly/cmhQD>)

Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP's Position:

More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans' ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Dufirstson J. Neree (Rep):

AARP did extensive research but was unable to find any public statement on this issue by July 11, 2014.

Frederica S. Wilson (Dem):

Rep. Wilson reiterated her call for Congress to take steps to restore tax fairness for working Floridians and families, instead of giving more tax cuts to millionaires and billionaires. "It's unfair to ask working Floridians and families to pay a higher tax rate than millionaires and billionaires – especially when we know we need to invest more in our infrastructure, education and innovation to grow the economy," said Rep. Wilson. The way to ensure that people making more than $1 million per year pay their fair share is the Buffet Rule. (Source: Wilson's Official Website, <http://ow.ly/cscJK>)
