Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today's seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP's Position:

Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Ileana C. Ros-Lehtinen (Rep):

With so many[...] 65 and older living on a fixed income, a viable social security system is crucial to the livelihood of many in our community [...] These issues must be addressed now. By delaying this issue we make it harder to find a viable solution that will prevent future expenses [...] Any proposed change must guarantee that current and future retirees receive the benefits to which they are entitled. I will constantly strive to protect our seniors and ensure that our government keeps the promise it has made. (Source: Congresswoman Ileana Ros-Lehtiner official Website, <http://ow.ly/clN2j>)

Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today's seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP's Position:

Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person's health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Ileana C. Ros-Lehtinen (Rep):

Medicare is a sacred trust between our government and seniors. They deserve to have their hard work rewarded by a Medicare system that is efficient, solvent and sustainable. According to the Congressional Budget Office (CBO), Medicare will go bankrupt in 2021. Without action countless Americans will lose their healthcare. Current and future Medicare recipients deserve nothing less than a return on the investment they made into the system throughout a lifetime of hard work[...] Any solution towards ensuring Medicare's long-term sustainability must not affect current seniors[...] (Source: Congresswoman Ileana Ros-Lehtiner official Website, <http://ow.ly/clN2j>)2

Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP's Position:

More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans' ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Ileana C. Ros-Lehtinen (Rep):

I am working to remove obstacles to economic growth and private sector job creation. We must ease the regulatory burden on America's job creators; reduce the tax burden on families and small businesses; and bring down our record national debt. I am committed to take every sensible step to help spur job creation and get our economy back on track so that Americans can do what they do best: create, innovate and lead.
