

US House Indiana District 6

HOW TO USE THE AARP VOTERS' GUIDE:

AARP produced this guide to help you find out what candidates are saying about health and financial security in their own words.

HAVING TROUBLE CUTTING THROUGH THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN CLUTTER?

AARP is committed to helping you get the facts you need to choose candidates who reflect your views and values. We are nonpartisan – we don't support or oppose any political candidates or contribute any money to campaigns or political action committees. Our priority is ensuring you know where the candidates stand before you cast your vote.

aarp.org/yourvote

Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today's seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP's Position:

Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Susan Hall Heitzman (Dem):

AARP did extensive research but was unable to find any public statement on this issue by July 11, 2014.

Luke Messer (Rep):

First and foremost, we must make sure that any reforms do not take funding away from seniors who currently rely on the program. In fact, like Congressman Paul Ryan, I believe that reform plans should not affect people currently in Medicare or Social Security – or even the people 55 to 65 who would join the program within the next 10 years. That said, for those younger than 55, we need reforms like those found in the Ryan budget – potentially extend the retirement age by a few years and reforming the Medicare program to empower and enable individuals to select the health care coverage program that best fit their needs. (Source: Wthr.com[NBC] <http://ow.ly/xwyr6>)

Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today's seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP's Position:

Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person's health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Susan Hall Heitzman (Dem):

AARP did extensive research but was unable to find any public statement on this issue by July 11, 2014.

Luke Messer (Rep):

First and foremost, we must make sure that any reforms do not take funding away from seniors who currently rely on the program. In fact, like Congressman Paul Ryan, I believe that reform plans should not affect people currently in Medicare or Social Security – or even the people 55 to 65 who would join the program within the next 10 years. That said, for those younger than 55, we need reforms like those found in the Ryan budget – potentially extend the retirement age by a few years and reforming the Medicare program to empower and enable individuals to select the health care coverage program that best fit their needs. (Source: Wthr.com[NBC] <http://ow.ly/xwyr6>)

Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP's Position:

More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans' ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Susan Hall Heitzman (Dem):

AARP did extensive research but was unable to find any public statement on this issue by July 11, 2014.

Luke Messer (Rep):

There are really three things we can do to help keep jobs right here in America from moving overseas... I support cutting our corporate tax rate. Second, we need to reduce the bureaucratic red tape that stifles the ability of local businesses to create jobs... We must encourage private investment without hyper-regulating the areas in which investment should be made... Third, we must create an environment that is friendly to job creation. We need to provide a stable environment that gives business an opportunity to plan ahead. To do this, our government needs to have balanced budgets and low taxes. (Source: Wthr.com[NBC] <http://ow.ly/xwyr6>)

After years of working hard and paying into the system, AARP believes you've earned the right to know where the candidates stand on the issues that matter to you and your family. This Voters' Guide will help you find out where the candidates stand on health and financial security in their own words, so you can decide which candidate best reflects your views and values.

To find out more about these issues and voting information, please visit aarp.org/yourvote.

Voter Information Inside

NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
AARP

601 E Street NW
Washington, DC 20049

