Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today's seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP's Position:

Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Kelly D. Kultala (Dem):

I'll honor the promise we've made to our seniors and never cut Social Security & Medicare. (Source: Kultala's Campaign Site <http://ow.ly/xxouZ>)

Kevin W. Yoder (Rep):

Keeping Our Promises to Seniors. Because of the Democrat's big spending and job killing agenda, Social Security faces bankruptcy within decades. We must keep our promises to the citizens who have paid into this system through years of hard work. In Congress I will work to explore and implement innovative solutions to restoring the solvency of social security without raising the retirement age, raising taxes or cutting benefits. I do not endorse the privatization of Social Security. (Source: Votesmart.org <http://ow.ly/xxmZJ>)

Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today's seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP's Position:

Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person's health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Kevin W. Yoder (Rep):

Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP's Position:

More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans' ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Kelly D. Kultala (Dem):

I'll work to help small businesses grow instead of adding to their uncertainty by shutting down the government, costing taxpayers billions, over political fights. (Source: Kultala's Campaign Site <http://ow.ly/xxouZ>)

Kevin W. Yoder (Rep):

All too often Washington D.C makes it harder on the economy and the American people, not easier. Layer upon layer of government mandates, regulations, and taxes suffocate our struggling economy and come down hard upon the hardworking American people. The House must remain committed to focusing on job creation, economic prosperity, and opportunities for all Americans to succeed. (Source: House Floor Speech, <http://goo.gl/fVJpko>)
