Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today's seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP's Position:

Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Mike R. Pompeo (Rep):

Currently, Social Security is spending more on beneficiaries than it is collecting in revenue, and the system's trust fund will be drawn down until it is fully exhausted in 2037. The Medicare trust fund will reach insolvency by 2029. This reality necessitates immediate action by Congress in order to ensure that Social Security and Medicare remain viable for current and future beneficiaries... We must work to preserve current benefits and revolutionize the system to ensure that future generations can receive the benefit of Social Security. ## Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today's seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP's Position:

Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person's health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP's Position:

More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans' ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Mike R. Pompeo (Rep):

I believe that the government must foster an environment in which private sector jobs can flourish. As we move forward, we must consider responsible solutions that strengthen our economy without mortgaging the fiscal well-being of our future generations. In Congress, I am working to stand up for the rights of entrepreneurs and small business owners and to reduce the regulations that have hindered economic growth.
