Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today's seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP's Position:

Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Richard L. Hanna (Rep):

Richard Hanna knows that Upstate senior citizens have given much to our nation. Our government must keep the promises made to them – it's just that simple. Richard is working to make sure Medicare and Social Security remain available for our seniors, and that these important programs are strong and solvent for our children and grandchildren. Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today's seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP's Position:

Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person's health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Richard L. Hanna (Rep):

Richard Hanna knows that Upstate senior citizens have given much to our nation. Our government must keep the promises made to them – it's just that simple. Richard is working to make sure Medicare and Social Security remain available for our seniors, and that these important programs are strong and solvent for our children and grandchildren. [...] He also voted to eliminate the Independent Payment Advisory Board – a board of bureaucrats to determine which medical treatments are too expensive under the health care law – because seniors should be in charge of their own health care decisions, not unelected officials. Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP's Position:

More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans' ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Richard L. Hanna (Rep):

Richard is also a strong supporter of the Low Income Heating Assistance Program which helps Upstate seniors pay home energy bills during cold winters. (Source: Hanna Campaign Website, <http://ow.ly/y5Yaq>)
