Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today's seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP's Position:

Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Chris C. Collins (Rep):

"I'm going to do my best in talking about spending. [...] We've got to shore up Social Security and Medicare and deal with entitlement programs" (Source: WBFO, <http://ow.ly/y6wjR>)

James D. O'Donnell (Dem):

AARP did extensive research but was unable to find any public statement on this issue by July 11, 2014.

Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today's seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP's Position:

Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person's health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Chris C. Collins (Rep):

"I was proud to vote for a budget that makes necessary reforms and structural changes to Medicare in 2024 to strengthen the current program and sustain it for future generations," said Congressman Collins. "To protect Medicare Advantage, I personally fought for a provision to prevent cuts to this program so many WNY seniors rely on." (Source: National Journal, <http://ow.ly/y6wHN>)

James D. O'Donnell (Dem):

Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP's Position:

More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans' ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Chris C. Collins (Rep):

Chris Collins understands how to create jobs, because he's created hundreds of jobs during his 30 years as a small businessman. In Congress, he'll put that experience to work for us, helping create the jobs our families need [...] Chris Collins knows a thing or two about cutting government. As Erie County Executive, he reduced the county's debt by more than $120 million and kept spending increases to practically zero. (Source: Chris Collins for Congress, <http://ow.ly/ch7li>)

James D. O'Donnell (Dem):

Jim will put his knowledge of economics to work and help small businesses succeed by reforming the tax code, exempting them from regulations that are meant for big corporations, and improving our physical and technological infrastructures so the little guy in rural New York has the same opportunity to succeed as the big shot in the big city. (Source: O'Donnell for Congress, <http://ow.ly/zFVGa>)
