

POL 593-596 American Field Research Seminar

Seminars for Academic Year 1997-1998

Faculty Leader: R. Douglas Arnold

Tuesday, September 16, Organizational Meeting, Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch.

Tuesday, September 30, Larry Butler, "Single Party Legislating in the 104th House." Discussant: Okiyoshi Takeda. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, October 14, Roundtable discussion with Jennifer Hochschild, Howard Rosenthal, and Douglas Arnold, on "Getting Published in Political Science," Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch.

Tuesday, October 21, Okiyoshi Takeda, "Why Do Committees Approve the Bills That They Do? Testing Committee, Party Government, and Informational Theories." Discussant: Greg Huber. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, November 4, Greg Huber and Deborah Schildkraut, "Symbolic Politics, Ideology, and Language Policy: Beyond Liberalism and 'Americanism'." Discussant: Sanford Gordon. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, November 18, Mark Stephan, "Factors That Influence Superfund Remedy Decisions." Discussant: Robert Weiner. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, November 25, Greg Huber, "Information, Discretion, and Targeting: The Role of Oversight in the Strategic Deployment and Monitoring of Regulatory Agents." Discussion of dissertation proposal (no advance paper). Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon.

Tuesday, February 10, Daniel Edelstein, "Who Votes for Whom: Social Cleavages in U.S. Presidential Elections." Discussant: Debbie Schildkraut. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, February 17, Sanford Gordon, "Procedural Consistency in Regulatory Queues." Discussant: Daniel Edelstein. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch.

Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, February 24, Adam Shrager, “The Impact of the Census on US Cities and Metropolitan Areas.” Discussant: Scott Abernathy. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, March 3, Debbie Schildkraut, “Culture and the Creed: Dimensions of American Identity and Their Influence on Public Opinion.” Discussant: Larry Butler. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, March 24, Scott Abernathy, “The Comparative Efficiency of Public and Catholic Schools in the United States.” Discussant: Adam Shrager. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, March 31, Larry Butler, “Getting to 218: Strategies for Building House Floor Majorities.” Discussion of dissertation proposal. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch.

Tuesday, April 21, Okiyoshi Takeda, “Organization of Congress and Bill Passage: Evidence from the House Floor.” Discussant: Sanford Gordon. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).

Tuesday, April 28, Shinju Fujihira, “Hegemonic War and Domestic Political Development: U.S. Public Finance in Comparative Perspective.” Discussant: Okiyoshi Takeda. Research Seminar in American Politics, 126 Corwin Hall, noon. Brown bag lunch. Paper available from Jane Hale (janehale@princeton.edu).